SPALDING WINS THE FIGHT

Chicago Magnate is Elected President of the National League

BRUSH FACTION WAGED BITTER STRUGGLE

Refore His Election Spaiding Denounces Freedman as Traitor, Saying He Will Wipe Him of the Map.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.-Just before 1 o'cleck this morning the Brush-Freedman action walked out of the meeting room of the National league magnates in a body and left the hotel at once, without stopping They refused to say a word. A. G. Spalding was elected president on the twentysixth ballot, which was taken after the Brush-Freedman faction had left the meeting. Those who remained declared that the others had "boited" the meeting and that they had a right to elect. Soden left shortly before 1 n'clock

After this President Young was put in the chair. He declared no quorum, but the point was raised that "no quorum" could not be declared without a roll call It was contended there might be proxies present and that a quorum could be estabished and that the meeting could continue in session. Young then retired. Colonel J. I. Rogers of Philadelphia was then elected to the chair. A vote was taken. Brooklyn, Pittsburg, Chicago and Philadelphia voted for Spalding for president and the names of the other four magnates were called, but there was no response.

The chair decided that Spaiding was elected on the basis of the decision of ex-Speaker Reed on a parliamentary question congress that members leaving without being excused should be counted as present and he decided that these men should be registered as not voting. He ruled that Spalding had been elected unanimously. The chair then announced a recess until

Spalding's Defiant Challenge,

NEW YORK, Dec. 13 .- After four days of practically an entire absence of official information as to the inner workings of the meetings of the magnates of the National Base Ball league, at the Fifth Avenue notel in this city, a real sensation has been sprung. The deadlock over the election of a president to succeed N. E. Young has continued. All sorts of statements have been given out, but tonight Mr. Albert G. Spalding threw down the gauntiet. He announced positively that he would not withdraw his name as a candidate for the presidency, but that he would force the magnates to vote on it. And the vote must be taken before the magnates adjourned. Furthermore, Mr. Spalding announced his position in the following words:

When the vote has been taken, when my When the vote has been taken, when my election shall be made unanimous and when they shall come to me and ask me to be their president, if I accept the honor, my one condition will be that Andrew Freedman must get out of base ball absolutely and entirely. He must be wiped off the base ball map. On his record in base ball—and I speak only of his base ball—and I speak only of his base ball ecord—I openly and publicly charge Andrew Freedman with being a traitor and a marplot. He has done more to ruin base bail than any other four forces that ever existed in the history of the game.

never been in the history of base ball. It seemed to be the general impression that the Brush-Freedman combination was beaten.

Just how Freedman was to be dropped was not made clear. It is said a new National league may be organized and New York dropped from the circuit, the Brooklyn club becoming the New York representative. Mr. Spalding made public certain recent correspondence between the various magnates. This correspondence consisted of a circular letter written by Frank DeHaas Robison to the presidents of the National league clubs under date of Feb ruary 1, 1901, dated from Cleveland. The letter urges the election of Mr. Spald ing as president. In the course of his letter Mr. Robison says:

Urges Spaiding's Election. I think the National league should immediately do something that at least appeals to some of the base ball public. V. must all admit that the affairs of the National league are not looked upon by the public as we would like to have them, but we rather appear to be in the background as compared with the Ban Johnson American leastice.

The new American league has gotten this The new American league has gotten this foothold and has gained the sympathy of the public and has got the backing of 25 out of 100 per cent of the newspaper writers of today, and they have brought this about within the last two years, and it has all been done practically by one man, and that man is Ban Johnson.

I wish that we could unanimously agree to tender the position of president of the National league to Mr. A. G. Spalding.

The letter pays a tribute to President Young and requests that each president ex press his view of the matter. In conclusion

Mr. Robison says: At any rate let us do something that part of the public will applaud us for doing and we will soon regain the footbold that we are entitled to have in the national game of professional base ball.

Brush's Plan Disclosed. In reply to this letters were received from A. H. Soden, James A. Hart, C. H. Ebbetts, A. J. Reach and the other presidents, except Brush and Freedman, heartily approving of the selection of Mr. Spalding for president and generally agreeing with

Mr. Robison in his views as to the future of the National league. In addition to this there was made public a letter from John T. Bruzh to Andrew Freedman, in which Brush outlines the plan for a board of control to take the place of a president. Later in the evening a meeting was held at the hotel to which the newspaper men were invited and Mr. Spalding made a further statement. He said that the only magnates he had talked to confidentially since the meeting on the matter were Messrs. Hart and Soden. Mr. Spalding said Mr. Soden had simply pledged Boston's vote to him for president. He Demands Prompt Action.

"At the present meeting," said Mr. Spalding, "my name was put in nomination and voted on with the result of a deadlock, and the result of the election coming out of the regular order of business. I have refused to withdraw my name. On the other hand, I propose to fight to the end. For the last few days my name has been played fool oall with by the members of the National league. They won't kick it around for four days more, for the reason that I will demand immediate action. "Either I will be elected or I won't. Wednesday, as an honorary member of the league and exercising my prerogative, I attended a session of the league. I told them that the abrogation of the league agreement was the most damnable outrage ever perpetrated in base bail. I spoke my mind and did not mince words. Action upon my name and an expression of my standing was what I wanted.

"Several of the league followed with responsible for the condition existing today in the National league. Freedman," he said, "must go, but for sistory's sake, let us give Brush a chance s save himself. While all this had been brewing the magnates held their sessions without result. At the afternoon session President Freedman tried to secure an adjournment to January 7, but was voted down. Rumors of trouble in the meeting room reached the corridors of the hotel soon after the magnates began their night seasion. The election of officers was taken Mr. Spalding and N. E. Young were the nominees and the first ballot stood 4 to 4. The name of A. G. Mills was added to the list of nominees on the third ballot The vote was: Spalding, 4; Young, 4; Mills The Breoklyn, Pittsburg, Philadelphia and Chicago clubs voted for Spalding. New York, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Boston voted for Young.

Freedman Makes Statement.

Many of the magnates, notably F. A Abell, John I. Rogers, A. P. Reach and Harry Von Der Horst, expressed themselves as pleased with the action of Mr. Spalding. No sooner had Mr. Spalding's words come to Mr. Brush than he announced his intention of reaving immediately for his home in Cincinnati. Mr. Freedman expressed himself comewhat forcibly on the statement given out by Mr. Spalding. He said that he attacked Spalding because of his trade connections and in conclusion said: de connections and in conclusion said:

I will meet Mr. Freedman on any posttion he may take. My only stipulation is that the matter must be fought out in the meeting room of the National league. The man that loses must be stipulated to get out of base ball forever.

TO SELL DES MOINES TEAM Flynn and Elliott Hope to Get Rid of Western League Franchise.

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 13.—(Special.)—
Frank P. Flynn and Harry Elliott, owners of the Western league franchise in Des Moines, will begin an active canvass Monday for the sale of stock in the new base ball association. Flynn and Elliott hope to organize a stock company here to take the Western league franchise, capitalizing such a concern at $10,000.

Of this amount between $5,000 and $6,000 has already been pledged by Flynn, Elliott and others who are interested. This leaves only a little over $4,000 yet to be sold.

It is the intention to sell the remaining stock in blocks of $500, if this can be done, in order to keep the number of members down to the minimum.

While Hines will undoubtedly be in charge of the Des Moines team next year nothing definite can be told until the stock company is organized, officers and directory board or executive committee elected, and the management of the team for the season of 1902 decided upon.

LIPTON COMMENTS ON LOSS Says Destruction of Shamrock's Sails. Gear and Blocks is a Tremendous Handlenp.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Sir Thomas Lipton said to a representative of the Associated Press tonight: "I have been informed from New York that all of Shamrock II's saits, gear and blocks have been destroyed by fire. This is a tremendous handicap. I am not speaking of the financial loss, but all this material had been specially tested and the entire boat is now left in the condition of a newly issuanched yacht. While I am not willing to say that it will absolutely prevent a race it is a great disappointment and an immense handicap in the future."

At the present time the secretary has received, from stockholders who cannot be present at the meeting proxies representing between 12,000 and 15,000 shares of stock, most of these stockholders being in favor of the proposed change.

When requested to give to the public a statement of the number of shares of stock entitled under the law to vote at the coming election Secretary George W. Hoobler said he did not feel that he should make the statement public without instructions from the Board of Directors, so it is impossible to give an exact statement of the number of shares entitled to vote at this time. A conight that he had signed Pitcher W. F. close estimate can be made, however, from Popp of the Little Rock team. Roy Thomas | the annual report of the secretary, made public last September, previous to the anhual meeting. According to this statement the total receipts from the subscription account had been $30,827.66, representing, roughly, 30 per cent of the number of shares paid upon as the shares are $1 each and the call was for a 30 per cent assessment. This figure is not exact, as some of the subscribers for small amounts paid in full. At that time the total number of shares which eculd have been voted were 102,759, in addition to 7.228 shares represented by the sale of bricks making the total available stock at that time approximately 109,987. This has been increased somewhat by the payment of a number of small subscriptions, ranging in number from one to twenty-five. A close estimate places the available voting stock at 112,000 shares, requiring the affirmative vote of at least 74,667 shares to carry the proposed change in the articles of in-

Finances of the Association.

Taking the annual statement as a basis. including the money raised from entertainments, and placing the house and lot donated by Herman Kountze at $4,000, the estimate of the committee, the total of the donations to the enterprise is approximately $29,746.84, which is over 20 per cent of the subscriptions reported at that time and at least 17 per cent of the subscriptions now upon the books.

There was some talk a few weeks ago of converting the subscriptions into capital stock for the purpose of assisting in carrying the proposed change in the articles of incorporation and of increasing the amount of indebtedness which the company may contract in case the change is made, but members of the directory say that this plan has been abandoned. Among the stock which will not be represented at the election are blocks held by some of the heaviest subscribers who have not been called upon to pay their first subscription other than by the circular sent to all stockholders last March. Several of the subscriptions represented in the above figures are provisional subscriptions, the subrecoming the right to subscribe the amount reported or to make a cash donation of a smaller amount.

"LADIES" DAY" WITH CHERRIES

Audience Comes with Many Mental Queries and Discovers as Many Answers.

Because the Cherry sisters are known to be so "divinely bad," hundreds of women, prompted by curiosity, took advantage of "ladies' day" at the Trocadero Friday afternoon to see them. The question they wanted to settle for themselves was: "What kind and degree of badness is it of which the Cherry sisters are the exponents."

Other questions they wanted to find answers for are as follows: "Why are they bad? Is it because there is more money in being very bad than in being pretty "Is it because they can't help it?" Do they really think their performance good?" "Don't they know that the public is guying them?" "Do they try to improve, or do they study to make their acting just as crude as they can?" Every woman who attended the matinee yesterday afternoon found answers to these questions to suit herself, but it is safe to say that no two sets of answers were the same. It is because the Cherry sisters are a puzzle, compared with which the pigs-inthe clover is as two plus two. They are the rare bird in the dramatic wilderness, forming a picture which no artist can paint and no scientist classify, whose mission on earth it is to mortify the flesh and humble the spirit of those who are so wicked as to go to the theater.

and had a conversation with them during the reception which followed, gives this as her opinion: "They think they give a high-class entertainment. One of them told me that their place was not in vaudeville, but rather in some lecture course, where they could play to intellectual audiences. The hisses they get from the Trocadero crowds they construe as attesting the rowdylsm of people too feeble in intellect to understand their art. They are impervious to satire. For eight years they have put up with the inconvenience of having to dodge vegetables and things because there is money in it."

Here is a sample of the songs they sing, an original composition, rendered to the tune of "Boom de Ave":

Don your hats and finest gowns, Cherry sisters are in town— Merchants laugh until they cry. Traveling men, they almost die— Ta, ra, ra, boom de aye, etc. Each of the three sings this at the top of her voice, winding up at the end with

The reason for its incorporation at this time is because the association is about to lease another building. It is not definitely
